

MUSICAL BEARS

This activity will work just like musical chairs.

The polar bear mask will need to be printed, with the eye holes cut out and a flat stick attached to it.

The Iceberg image can be place on the tables or on the seats, whichever is easier.

Just like musical chairs the number of chairs will decline as each round ends, meaning less and less students will be able to sit down.

This will help the students develop an understanding of the shrinking icebergs due to climate change.
